In addition, the Department of Defense Information Assurance Certification and Accreditation Process, published in November 2007, is documented in DOD 8510. 01 and the online DIACAP knowledge service. Also, the establishment of an information security program is described in DOD regulation 5200. 01-R, dated January 1997. The intelligence community is a federation of executive branch agencies Intelligence Community and organizations that work separately and together to conduct intelligence activities necessary for the conduct of foreign relations and 20 the protection of the national security of the United States. Member organizations include intelligence agencies, military intelligence, and civilian intelligence and analysis offices within federal executive departments. The community is led by the Director of National Intelligence, who oversees and directs the implementation of the National Intelligence Program. Historically, the intelligence community has had separate instructions related to information system security. For example, Director of Central Intelligence Directive ( DCID ) 6 3, Protecting Sensitive Compartmented 21 Information within Information Systems, and its implementation manual provided policy and procedures for the security and protection of systems that create, process, store, and transmit intelligence information, and defined and mandated the use of a risk management process and a certification and accreditation process. 20 The organizations are the Central Intelligence Agency, Defense Intelligence Agency, Department of Energy ( Office of Intelligence and Counterintelligence ), Department of Homeland Security ( Office of Intelligence and Analysis ), Department of State ( Bureau of Intelligence and Research ), Department of the Treasury ( Office of Intelligence and Analysis ), Dru. . .
