A. was effected. 129 A frequent method of extending assistance and exchanging counsel was by way of a conference. The A. B. C. Conferences<sup>130</sup> of Illinois, were typical examples. The first was a state convention, held at the State University, June 20-22, 1916. Later, district and local conferences were held. Play and recreation was always a topic for discussion at these meetings, and their function was twofold: to define the method of community organization, and to interest communities in accepting the responsibility of solving their local problems. The question was not whether the people could be entrusted with power, but how they could be induced to take it, to accept responsibility for the local welfare. The neighborhood organization stage of the play movement,...
